

Chapel West News 7/22

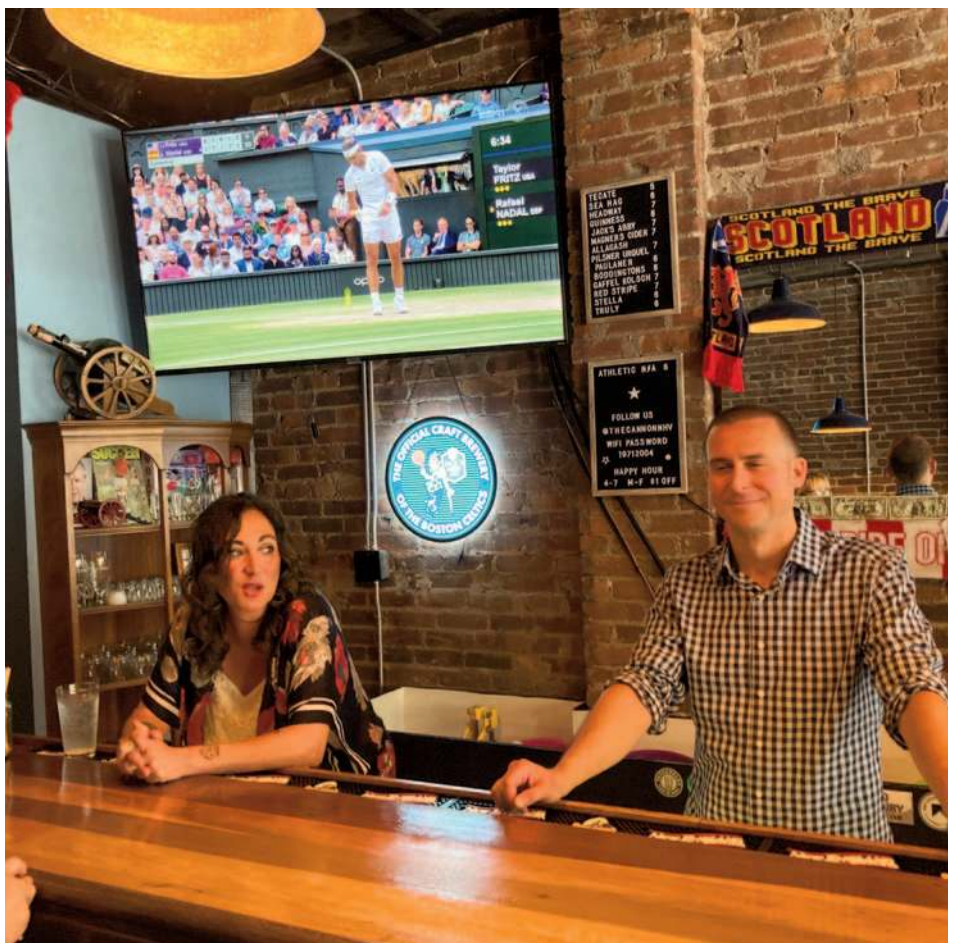

The Cannon vegan pub opens on Dwight Street

Chapel West welcomes the new vegan pub The Cannon, which officially opened July 7.

Founded by Kevin MacKenzie, Skyller Melton, and Tessa Davis, the pub is named for the symbol of London's Arsenal Football Club, a cannon. It offers a menu of vegan and vegetarian options, beer, wine, and spirits. The restaurant's opening comes during time of renewal and recovery for eatery businesses in the district, having seen a number of closures during the pandemic. The pub is located at 135 Dwight Street, just in from Chapel Street.

Above: Tessa Davis, Skyller Melton, Kevin MacKenzie, Mayor Elicker, Carlos Eyzaguirre, Anthony Giano, and Marie Bomz

Co-founders Tessa Davis and Kevin MacKenzie

BUSINESS HOURS
	P.M.	A.M.
MONDAY	CLOSED
TUESDAY	4:00	1:00
WEDNESDAY	4:00	1:00
THURSDAY	4:00	1:00
FRIDAY	4:00	2:00
SATURDAY	4:00	2:00
SUNDAY	4:00	1:00

104 street banner poles on Chapel Street are given a new coat of black paint

R&R Concrete for Elm City Properties replaces broken brick and stone along the sidewalk in front of shops More Amore and Book Trader.

Photoshoot for the J. Press fall 2022 catalog, both inside and outside the Graduate Hotel.

Hats off to the gardeners Aracelly and Juan Williams who, of their own initiative, maintain the garden plot in front of their apartment on Chapel Street near the School of Art.

Summer flowers in the 54 CW planters. With the extreme heat and drought this year, each planter requires 4-5 gallons of water each day.

Seasonal flowers in garden hangout spot maintained by Yale, between Hull's Art Supply and Book Trader Cafe.